FCSS autonomy deferred to Jan. 1, 1995

Elk Point Community Services, originally slated to become an autonomous FCSS as of June 1, 1994, now has until January 1 to phase out programs and take over responsibility for their own payroll and accounting. Three Community Services Board members and CS Director Terri Ehler met with Town Council at last Monday's regular meeting to discuss a variety of concerns regarding the upcoming changes.

The recreational component, which was added to FCSS some years ago to become the Town's Community Services Department, has now been eliminated. Board spokesperson Colleen Simon said that all who used this component will have to be notified of the change, but the department could not do so without clarification on exactly what was happening.

The request for delay of the change to autonomous operation stemmed from a desire to "go more slowly and cautiously and do things better. It would allow time to phase out and relocate programs, and to change the bylaws and policies," according to Ms Ehler. Ms Simon said the Board was "apprehensive about doing our own accounting until we find out what the criteria are." Council agreed to the Town doing the accounting, for a fee, until the new FCSS Board feels able to take over, with a January 1, 1995 deadline. Delay of FCSS autonomy until that date was also approved.

The Town of Elk Point is still debating where FCSS will make their new home. Suggestions have included the Peter Fidler Centre and the hospital's Nurses Residence, but no decision has yet been reached. The Town will pick up the cost for rental of the new location. Mayor Buck said that an addition to the Town Office had also been considered, but is not feasible this year.

The Mayor felt that autonomy will give FCSS more flexibility, and allow them to make their own decisions regarding the handling of overtime hours and staying within their budget. It will give them total control of what projects to undertake, and would also give them the ability to fundraise if they so wished. He noted that the Community Services Board "hasn't operated the way it was designed to do," with all grants for Elk Point coming to the board for dispersal, and that the coming changes may bring the department closer to its original function.

Groups housed in the Community Services Centre are gradually finding new homes prior to the August 31 date when the Town will end their tenancy of the facility. The Playschool, which has formed their own society, is moving to a classroom in the Elementary School, while the Parent Nursery will move to the basement of the Baptist Church. Elk Point Scouting Association will move to the basement of the Peter Fidler

Centre, while the Masonic Lodge will be housed in the back half of the main floor of that building, according to Councillor Bill Schuhmacher.

The willingness of these volunteer groups to strike out on their own "is a credit to the community," Ms Ehlert said. Ms Simon agreed that with willing and able volunteers, "it should work out," but questioned if future volunteers will continue the work for their groups. Ms Ehlert said the FCSS will continue to encourage and assist groups to become self-sufficient, as this frees up funds which can be used to provide other services for the community. She also thanked Mayor Buck for his assistance in obtaining the use of a classroom for the Playschool.

CS Board member Sharon Smith felt "it would be sad not to have recreation funding" for such facilities as the walking trails, minor ball diamonds and the golf course, all of which are "a big drawing card for the community." The Mayor pointed out that the arena, Minor Hockey, the Golf Club and Curling Club all look after their own facilities and programs, and that Minor Ball also has their own organization. The Golf Club will be taking care of ball tournament bookings, and the Town has given the Tennis Club a grant to help with their operation. "In order to save FCSS, we felt we had to get down to a realistic cost."

Councillor Vern King said it is "hard to separate FCSS and recreation. We are trying to ease the transition with the $12,000 transitional funding this year. The Board will have to decide how to spend their money."

Council later passed a resolution that Community Services operate within a budget of $37,690 provincial grant, $9422.50 Town of Elk Point share and a one time grant of $12,000 as a transitional amount from January 1 to May 31 for Departments 71, 72-02 and 72-08, with an administrative office to be supplied by the Town at no cost, and further that CS become autonomous and do their own accounting effective January 1, 1995 or sooner in the case of accounting.

Alberta's seniors have a lot to give

The tremendous contributions that seniors have made in the past and continue to make in our communities is being recognized in the 9th Annual Seniors Week in Alberta, June 5 to 11. A number of activities are being planned to acknowledge the contributions that seniors make in Elk Point.

It is not on the basis of number of years on earth that seniors are accorded special recognition and respect, but because of their efforts in raising families, pursuing a vocation, supporting the churches, fighting the country's enemies, participating in many organizations, and due insight and maturity gained through many life experiences.

Also, it is becoming increasingly clear that far from being relegated to society's margins, seniors play a major role and will do so even more in the future.

In part, this is due to demographic factors. According to provincial government statistics, about nine percent of Albertans are now 65 years of age or older. That proportion will grow to almost 10 percent by 1996, reach 14 percent by 2016, and continue to increase until the year 2031, when they will comprise 20 percent of the population.

During the period, seniors are bound to make themselves increasingly felt in society, both as citizens and individuals.

Most seniors, especially those in the 65 to 74 age group, are in good health and live on their own. They are active, interested people in charge of their own lives.

Studies have shown, for instance, that older people as a group tend to read more, are more interested in political affairs, and are more likely to vote than other societal groups, a fact that no doubt is of interest to elected officials and would-be elected officials.

Another significant factor is the financial clout of the senior population. On a per capita basis, they account for three times as much spending as younger people.

As a result, we can expect to see many more products and services directed specifically at the senior market, something which has already begun.

But the importance of Seniors Week should increase our awareness of the strength, resourcefulness, efforts and achievements of individual seniors themselves, past, present and future.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING WITH YOUR LIFE?

After the Christmas break, the teacher asked her small pupils how they spent their holiday. One little boy, who had visited his grandparents in a retirement park, replied:

"We spent Christmas with Grandma and Grandpa. They used to live up north in a big house, but Grandpa retarded and they moved to a city. The live in a park with lots of other retarded people. They all live in huts. They ride tricycles that are too big for me.

They all go to a building they call the wrecked hall, it is fixed now. They all do exercises, but not very well. They play a game with big checkers and push them around on the floor with sticks. There is a swimming pool, but I guess nobody teaches them... they just stand there in the water with their hats on.

"My Grandma used to bake cookies for me, but nobody cooks there. They all go to restaurants that are fast and have discounts. When you come into the park, there is a dollhouse with a man sitting in it. He watches all day so they can't get out without him seeing them.

"I guess everybody forgets who they are because they all wear badges with their names on them. Grandma and Grandpa worked hard all their lives to earn their retirement. I wish they'd move back home, but I guess the man in the dollhouse won't let them out."

Seniors week events

Plans for events to celebrate the contribution of Elk Point's seniors to the community are now underway for Seniors Week, June 5 to 11.

Heritage Lodge is starting off the week with their annual Open House, Sunday, June 5, which this year will also include an arts and crafts show. A candlelight community worship service is scheduled for that evening.

Monday, June 6 is the 50th anniversary of D-Day, a time of many memories of the World War II years. The long term patients of Elk Point Municipal Hospital will be marking the day with a parade of decorated wheelchairs from the hospital to the downtown area.

June 8 will be another entertaining day for hospital residents, as staff and patients take part in a Watermelon Seed Spitting Contest. Also on that day, the Pioneer Circle seniors will invite the Elk Point Elementary School's Grade 6 classes to a Pancake and Sausage Lunch at the Recreation Centre.

No events have been planned for June 7, 9 and 11, but the planning committee suggest that those might be great times for community members to take a senior to lunch, or for seniors to treat their favorite volunteer.

Stay tuned for further details next week, as Seniors Week draws closer.

Now, that's class!

They may have been notorious as rambunctious Seventh Graders, but as the Class of '94, the students who graced F. G. Miller's stage Saturday have matured into young adults we can be proud to call our own.

This reporter recalls this group before they were notorious, as they wobbled through their first ice carnivals and hockey tournaments, sashayed out as snowflakes and Santas at their earliest Christmas concerts, and overcame stage fright in their public speaking debuts. The Review has been proud to list their growing accomplishments as they won trophies and acclaim in sports, academic undertakings, performing arts and the many facets of 4-H. Provincial trophies, the Fair Play Award, Triple Gold status, exchange trips, all have been noteworthy.

In addition to their outwardly visible achievements, it is easy to tell that they have become thoughtful and caring individuals. Their memorial tribute to two former classmates, and the inclusion of those students' parents in their festivities, touched every heart.

Grads, your families, your teachers and your community are proud to call you their own. Now get out there and show the rest of the world why we feel that way.

Our Past

By Steve Andrishak

Settlers started to arrive in our district in 1907. Some of the first to settle in our district were Charles Hood, O. J. Fish, William Schancel, Tom Aarbo, Court Smith and J. B. Caskey.

The hamlet of Elk Point was established in 1909 and was governed by the Municipal District of Lincoln after it was formed in 1914.

The first school in our district was built 2 1/2 miles south east of Elk Point in 1909. Our first river crossing was at Hopkins, which was three miles west of our present bridge (1908). In 1914, a second ferry began operating just about where our bridge stands.

Elk Point's first post office opened on June 15, 1909, Charles Hood was the first postmaster. Phone service came to Elk Point on August 9, 1913. Charles Hood was also the first switchboard operator.

Elk Point held its first Agricultural Fair on September 25, 1912. Elk Point's first hospital opened its doors in 1923. The hospital was privately operated by Dr. F. G. Miller and Dr. A. G. Ross. In 1928 a new municipal hospital opened in the west part of town and the old downtown hospital was converted into a medical clinic.

Electricity was first used in Elk Point in 1923 when Dr. F. G. Miller had a Delco power plant installed near the hospital. Power was supplied only to the hospital and his nearby residence. In 1928 a much larger power plant supplied electricity where our post office now stands. This new plant supplied electricity to the Municipal Hospital as well as to the entire hamlet.

The Canadian National Railway arrived in 1927, and on September 22, 1927 our first train pulled into Elk Point.

Prior to 1927 our main street ran east and west. At that time our hamlet was situated at the crossroads of Highway 41. The first hotel built in Elk Point was the Caskey Hotel, built in 1916 and situated where Mrs. Beattie now lives. Our present downtown hotel was built in 1927.

Elk Point's first bank was a branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. It opened in 1919 but was destroyed by fire during the spring of 1922. This fire also destroyed an entire block of buildings, including the community hall, Markstad's Implement and Ford Agency, as well as Hood's Hardware and Post Office. The first Drug Store to open in Elk Point was the MacDonald's Drug Store which opened in the east part of our hamlet in 1925.

Milestones

Our longest winter occurred in 1919-20. It lasted from October 8, 1919 to the middle of May 1920.

The 'flu epidemic of 1918-19 killed many people in Elk Point and surrounding districts. The flu virus was brought to Canada by returning soldiers who fought during the World War of 1914-18.

In 1930, Elk Point had its own police magistrate. His name was George Shortridge. Court cases were conducted at his residence which was located where Ken Adkins now lives. During the 1930s, Elk Point even had its own undertaker. His name was Bill Morris - he lived on a farm north of Armistice.

During the economic depression of the early 1930s, the price of wheat fell to 30 cents a bushel, feed oats sold for 5 cents a bushel and a fully grown 250 pound hog brought $2.50. Bologna bulls sold for three quarters of a cent per pound, live weight.

In 1938, Elk Point became a village. Its three chosen councillors were D. C. Nelson, Dr. A. G. Ross and Jack Jensen. D. C. Nelson was then chosen as the first village mayor.

Elk Point's first bridge was built during the winter of 1949-50 and had its official opening on June 7, 1950. Our second bridge (open span) was built during the winter of 1985-86. It had its official opening on June 8, 1986.

Canadian Utilities started supplying electricity to Elk Point in 1952. The power was transmitted from their Vermilion plant. The Elk Point Gas Co. was established in 1949.

Elk Point became a town in 1962. The first election was held on October 17, 1962. Mike Habiak became Elk Point's first town mayor by acclamation. The first voted-in councillors were Harry Shewchuk, Jack Zarowny, Nick Bohon, Dr. K. C. Miller, Ralph Riemer and Ronald Barwick. Mayor Habiak held the office of Mayor for 30 years. He first became mayor of the Village of Elk Point after an accident claimed the life of Mayor Harry Ramsbottom. Elk Point's first Town Secretary was Paul Petrosky.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police established a detachment in Elk Point in 1968. The two room school situated north of our present Town Office served as their headquarters. Later they built their present facilities. Prior to 1968, Elk Point was policed by a Town Constable. Some early town constables were Clarence Merrick, Roy Hatchard, Jim Abraham and Harry Keck.

The family forum

Jim MacLellan

Last week I talked with someone about responsibility. We were speaking wishfully about the need for children / teens to be responsible. I asked my colleague and myself, "How can we teach responsibility?" With some thought and some research, I came to some conclusions -- conclusions that I really didn't like.

Teaching responsibility has got to be a painful process. I say "got to" because I'm not sure that I did a bang-up job with my eldest! I'm learning, too!

The bad news, I think, is found within the classic statement: How do you make good decisions? - Experience. How do you get experience? - Making bad decisions!

Now as I attempt to be very transparent about this, I find myself repulsed by the idea that bad decisions beget experience; and experience begets responsibility. (Even though it appears to be true.) Why does this bother me so?

Well, here goes... embarrassment!

Yes, this is true! Standing by and watching my kid(s) make mistakes is embarrassing. But maybe -- just maybe, the reason our kids lack the responsibility we want is because we've never accepted the fact that embarrassment comes with the package. Translation: Parental pride produces irresponsibility! Wow! That hurts! So what can we do then?

1. Swallow our pride. Let's agree that parents who allow their kids to err in the process of learning are more honorable than the parents who step in and cover the mistake.

2. Prior to launching out on the shopping trip, excursion, etc., take time to discuss (if they're old enough) the consequences of different options they will face.

3. Start this journey of responsibility with small things, moving to larger arenas of life.

Don't you wish there were an easier way? I do!

Community Choir sings of spring

Elk Point Community Choir hosted two large and appreciative crowds for their annual Spring Concert, May 18 and 19 in the Elk Point Elementary School Gym. Bernice Capjack was mistress of ceremonies, and introduced the almost 60 members of the very popular group.

The choir started off with a very appropriate "I Hear Music In Me," followed by a Welsh folk song, "The Ash Grove," with Laurie Keichinger on flute. Barb Buryn on piano and Glen Trefanenko on drums accompanied the choir's rendition of the 1950s favorite "Do Wah Diddy Diddy." The ladies of the choir ended the first set with the haunting melody of Robert Louis Stevenson's "Over The Sea To Skye."

Mathilda Furger and Randall Krys were accompanied by Udo Mueller on piano for their offering of the Rankin Family's sad love song, "Farewell To Love."

Soloist Linda Peters gave a soaring rendition of "The Sound of Music," with accompaniment by Barb Buryn on piano and Heather Krupa on flute.

Very appropriate for the International Year of the Family was a family trio consisting of choir member Diane Frankiw and her sons Kevin and Trevor, with Kevin providing piano and organ music for his mother and brother in "Love Can Build A Bridge" and "Grandpa."

Peggy Adomaitis took the audience back to the past with "Bye Bye Blues," accompanied by pianist Udo Mueller and guitarist Guy Labrecque, nattily attired in fedoras and trenchcoats.

An air usually associated with Highland Dancing provided the next number, "Kerry Dance," sung by Emily Mueller, Heather Krupa and Pauline Hung with accompaniment by Linda Peters.

A group of cool dudes in shades then took the stage, as the male members of the choir provided "My Girl," with Glen Trefanenko on drums. A comely lady appeared at the very end to accost conductor Don Buryn, coyly providing him with a key (to her heart? We're not sure!).

The entire choir was back for an an early American spiritual, "Amazing Grace," which started with a solo by Debbie Lawrence. Randall Krys was the featured soloist and Linda Peters the pianist for "A Whole New World." The final number of the set had a Big Band flavor, as Barb Buryn on piano and Glen Trefanenko on drums accompanied "Heart and Soul."

A country flavor was provided by Debbie Lawrence, Mathilda Furger and Gwen Morris, with "Honky Tonk Moon," followed by an old folk song, "Fair And Tender Ladies."

Remember the Backwoods Boys? Cousin Ole from Norway Valley and Grandpa Bart from Ferguson Flats dropped into entertain with their dueling accordions, Uncle Ben from Shamrock Valley unfortunately unable to accompany

The other two were in fine form, and warmly welcomed Big Albert Naber's identical (?) twin brother, Little Cousin Albert, and his fair fiancée, Gretchen, who have just arrived from overseas. That made four accordions, all playing up a storm, as Cousin Ole and Grandpa Bart vied for the attention of Gretchen. That was before Big Albert arrived, however,

IT'S ALL HISTORY NOW - Jeff Lypka and Heather Tremblay told all about their classmates as they gave a lighthearted look at the Class of '94.

WELL DESERVED ACCLAIM - MLA Paul Langevin congratulates Cheri Lindquist on her recent Excellence in Teaching award.

YESTERDAY'S MEMORIES - Salute in song by Travis Pankiw.

F.G. Miller salutes

Memories of the past and dreams of tomorrow were all a part of Saturday's celebration of F. G. Miller High School's Class of '94, as they marked the completion of their high school years in their own special way.

Not only the students who currently make up the class, but their former classmates as well, were recognized in the program. Jaime Spence, who was part of the class until Grade 9, returned to Elk Point to serve as the afternoon's MC, while another former class member, Trevor VanMaarion, was MC for the banquet. Two other former classmates, Amelia Youngchief and Clayton Orr, who passed away in their late elementary years, were fondly remembered in the ceremonies. Sara Ramer opened the afternoon with O Canada.

The Class of '94 chose "Hero" by Mariah Carey, as their processional, as they entered the gym through a teal, black and white balloon arch and mounted the stage back-dropped with spraypaint graffiti. Candace Ference and Jennifer Jasinsky gave an original invocation, bidding their contemporaries to "cherish in your heart memories of the past."

Memories and emotions ran strong as Tammy Flett and Colleen Rupchan sang Wynonna's "It Ain't Easy To Say Goodbye."

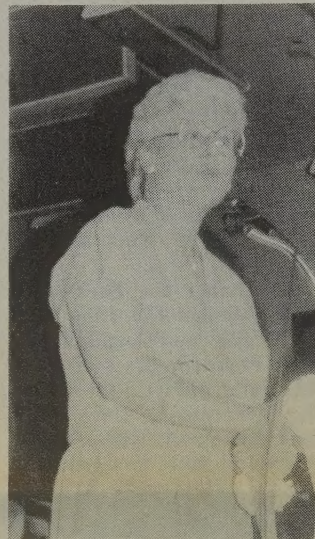

Principal Jim Hawkins expressed his thoughts on "a cornucopia of memories" that the day had brought him. "F. G. Miller will be missing you... your involvement in the community and in our lives. You are between worlds, with one foot here and the other taking the big step... in the direction you want to travel. Keep your eye on your goal, and use your knowledge and perseverance to get there. Stay the course as you seek your dreams."

The class had "always known" that Christian Kittlitz would be their valedictorian, according to Miss Spence, and so he was. "We are forced to realize that our time here is coming to an end," Kittlitz said. "This year we learn how to say goodbye." School years have gone by fast, and now "we want a little more time before it's over. The old adage is true - time does fly while you're having fun."

Class historians Heather Tremblay and Jeff Lypka gave an entertaining look at the past of each student as Mayor Ed Buck, MLA Paul Langevin and Junior High President Shawn Moroziuk presented scrolls and pins. The 24 original students, and those who have joined the group since those long-ago kindergarten days, were featured in a slide show accompanied by Eric Clapton's "Tears In Heaven," dedicated to the late Amelia Youngchief and the late Clayton Orr.

Dreams are an uncertain journey challenging us to leave those we love.

GUEST SPEAKER - Donna Dahmer was the Class of '94's first teacher, back in kindergarten.

Class Presidents Twila Rainboth and Danny Hanson expressed thanks to all who had helped make the day a memorable one, as well as thanking their parents and families, "the source of our strength. There is no real way to say thank you." They also thanked Cheri Lindquist for all her efforts as Grad Advisor.

Ms Lindquist acknowledged that the past two weeks had been hectic, "but I made it." She recalled that this had been her first Home Ec class in Grade 8, and were "a home ec teacher's nightmare." Since then, their energies have been redirected into more purposeful channels, and she now expects to hear great things of them in the future. "This class always loved a challenge, and they have learned in CALM 20, 'I am lovable and capable.'"

Ms Lindquist also announced the winners of the Grad Class Scholarship which was initiated by the Class of 1991 and is now in its fourth year. Charlene Anderson, Amy Hawkins and Kyle Lawrence were the deserving winners of the award.

Another award was presented by School Board Chairman Ray Danyluk, who presented the Excellence in Teaching award to Ms Lindquist, noting that she had been nominated by her teaching colleagues, students, the community and the administration, all of whom were impressed by her efforts at making her subjects of Home Economics, Health and CALM relevant to her students. MLA Langevin added that Ms Lindquist "has excelled in a very special way," as he presented a scroll from the Minister of Education and a plaque from himself. The Class of '94 gave their well loved teacher a standing ovation.

Soloist Aaron Aarbo sang Sawyer Brown's "The Passing Train," and interspersed Garth Brooks' "The River" with a timely poem by his grandmother, dedicated to the memory of Clayton Orr, and to the grad class.

Guest speaker was Donna Dahmer, who could be said to have taught the Class of '94 everything they needed to know back in her first year of teaching kindergarten. "A first class has a special place in a teacher's heart," she said, at the end of what she feels may be her last year of teaching. She spoke with great feeling on the difference between these students and her present inner-city charges, noting that the latter have not enjoyed the sleigh rides, field trips and birthday cakes the Elk Point kindergarteners took delight in. Her advice to her long-ago students for "each tomorrow" which will be a part of their future, is to "set goals so you know where you're going and how to get there." She added a special note for the female students, and got a round of applause for her urging that they do their part in changing the inequalities in wages between men and women. "Don't count on Prince Charming to support you all your days." She quoted anthropologist Margaret Mead: "Never doubt that a small group of people can change the world." Ms Dahmer closed by paraphrasing her "goodbye" song from kindergarten days.

This same sentiment was echoed in the recessional, "It's So Hard To Say Goodbye To Yesterday" by Boyz II Men, which led the Class of '94 out into the world to receive the congratulations of friends and family.

They reconvened later at the Elks Hall, where a fine meal was preceded by grace by Dorothea Naber. Mayor Ed Buck toasted the grads, "a very historic group - the last grad class from the County of St. Paul - the next will be from St. Paul Regional School District No. 1." Kyle Lawrence replied, saying that "Elk Point has been good to us... and while many have been anxious to leave, as the time gets near, the town doesn't seem so small."

Charlene Anderson toasted the parents with a poem of thanks "for a heritage of which to be proud." Coral Tremblay replied with mock relief that "the notorious Grade 7 class made it all the way to Grade 12," and had "kept everyone on their toes" as they did so.

Crystal Young toasted the many teachers who have helped the class along their way, with a reply by Kaz Lazicki, who will retire this year after many years in the classroom.

Grade 11 students Justin Conrad and Renee Anderson wished the class farewell from their fellow students. MLA Paul Langevin added his best wishes and some good advice.

of fast changing technology. "Those who adapt will survive," he said. "Our pioneers were open to change, and you are the pioneers of the 21st century." He assured the grads that they are not really leaving those they love "because they'll be coming to visit you."

Dr. K. C. Miller was among the head table guests and took the opportunity to outline the history of F. G. Miller High School, which had been named after his father, the well known pioneer doctor, who had been a long time school board member.

Following presentations to the Grad Class presidents, Travis Pankiw sang an original song, "Yesterday's Memories," dedicated to the grad class. Grad parents Debbie Lawrence and Gwen Morris added a special musical message to each grad from their parents, "Stand Tall."

The evening concluded with a very much enjoyed dance, with Moose Mountain's music keeping everyone on the floor well into the wee hours.

TENNIS NEWS

Linda Shmyr

Tennis Instructor

Hi again! What kind of weather are we having? I know, it's great for the farmers, but for outdoor tennis, it's a different story.

Tennis lessons in the schools are underway - in between the rain and cold weather, when they were cancelled.

So far we have been learning the basics of basics, 'BALL CONTROL' which I feel is the most important skill in tennis. This leads us into our first TENNIS TIP of the season: Tennis shots can be described as having a combination of the following characteristics - DIRECTION, HEIGHT, DISTANCE, SPEED and SPIN. A player's overall success and proficiency in tennis is closely linked to his / her ability to adapt to the different balls received and to send the balls with various different characteristics, depending on each game situation.

Big bucks at stake in Bingo

This coming Sunday is Elk Point and district's first chance to win big money locally at a super bingo, when Elk Point Agricultural Society hosts their fundraising Mega-bucks Bingo at A.G. Ross Arena.

Doors open at 9 a.m. for the first portion of the day, with the first of five early bird games starting at 11 a.m. and regular games starting at 12 noon. Two guaranteed Bonanzas, with $2000 and $3500 prizes, are also part of the first half of the day.

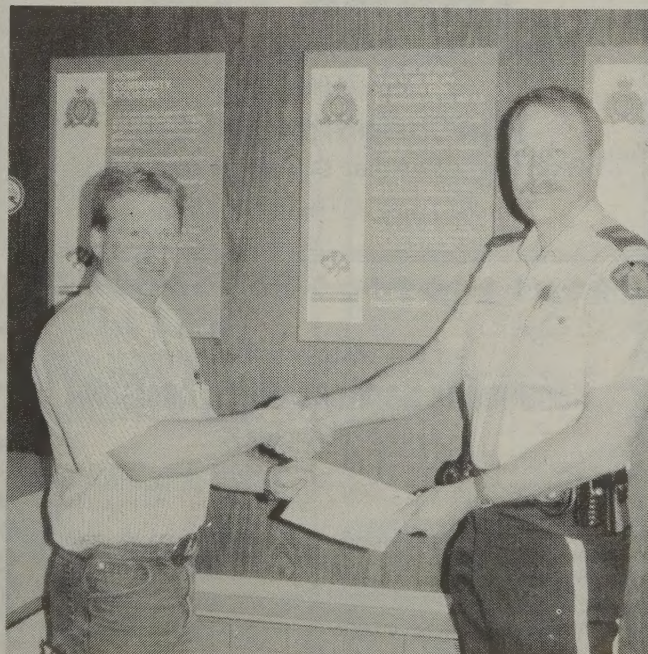

The second licence starts with five early birds at 3 p.m., and another series of regular games at 4 p.m. Guaranteed Bonanzas with $2000 and $3500 prizes are also part of this series.

Games 15 and 30 offer $1500 Bonus Bucks, and five $100 door prizes are up for grabs. Nevadas will be available.

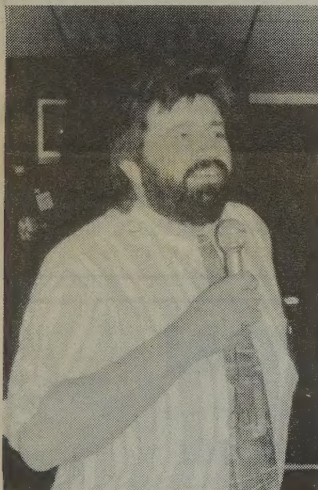

Tickets will be pre-sold, with a minimum of 6 cards, with a discount for combinations of both licences. Tickets are available at Woody's Trophy and Gift and Home Town Grocers in Elk Point, St. Paul Co-op and Shutter Bee Photography in St. Paul, as well as outlets in Bonnyville and Vermilion.

WALKATHON FOR CHILDREN'S HEALTH - Staff of Elk Point's Alberta Treasury Branch took a hike last Thursday, with pledges they had collected for their efforts in the 10 kilometre jaunt going toward the Children's Health Foundation of Northern Alberta.

EQUIPMENT FUND DONATION - Sgt. John Humphrey of the Elk Point RCMP accepted a donation from Barry Brown of Pan Canadian Petroleum for the RCMP's Equipment Fund. The $280 is slated for purchase of camera lenses.

BANQUET SPEAKER - School Board Chairman Ray Danyluk reminisced about his own school days.

School Board Chairman Ray Danyluk was featured as the banquet guest speaker, and reminisced about two of his fellow guests, Mr. Lazicki, who had been his own school principal back in the days of the strap, and Mr. Paul Chamberland, who had been his high school principal.

Danyluk referred to the Class of '94 theme, "Dreams are an uncertain journey challenging us to leave those we love." "Dreams are the essence of life," he said, citing the late Gordie Miller's "basketball dream team," the successes of which were "an inspiration for all of us." He encouraged the grads to "cultivate your dreams. Weed out the seeds of negativity... to harvest success." The uncertainty brings with it a responsibility to meet the demands

No slight intended - Chamber told

St. Paul's CHLW Radio did not mean to slight Elk Point by calling itself 'the voice of St. Paul - Bonnyville,' Elk Point Chamber of Commerce was told at last Wednesday's regular meeting.

The CRTC, which governs radio and television stations across Canada, had told the station that they must give the correct geographical identification on an hourly basis, as this information is used by aeroplanes and travellers to determine what area they are in. The station has now changed the identification used at other times to include Elk Point and other communities in the listening area.

CHLW representative Brian Labrie thanked the community for its support, and told the Chamber that the decision not to include Elk Point in the station's identification had been made at network level.

Alberta Treasury Branch Manager Mel Ryks made the long awaited announcement that automated tellers will be installed at the Elk Point and Smoky Lake branches. However, structural changes are necessary, so no installation date has been determined to this time.

Terri Ehlerth reported on behalf of the Beautification Committee that the Town crew will be moving planters to their adoptive homes in the near future. The committee plans to continue their efforts on an ongoing basis, and will develop short and long term goals for future projects. Millie Orr thanked the Town for giving her family permission to plant a memorial tree in Mural Park. The tree will be dedicated on Graduation weekend in memory of the Orrs' son and brother, Clayton, who would have been a member of the Class of '94.

Vicki Brooker reported that the Tourist Information Centre will open June 1, with Sherry Pelech as Information Clerk for a third year. There were three applicants for the position.

The Chamber's downtown bulletin board is being moved parallel to the Sew and Knit building and will be refurbished.

Representatives of the Best Dressed Staff, at Toronto Dominion Bank, and the Best Dressed Business, Elk Point Gas, were presented with their plaques after the meeting. Certificates went to the runners up, Elk Point Insurance and Realty and the Elk Point Review.

Concert

with a booming rendition of "Wooden Heart," and swept her off her feet and off the stage.

Pianist John Bennett took the audience back to the days of World War I for "Tiger Rag," released in 1917, and the 1919 hit, "How Ya Gonna Keep 'Em Down On The Farm?"

Moving back to 1994, Laurie Keichinger sang Tanya Tucker's "Two Sparrows In A Hurricane." She was followed by Emily and Udo Mueller with "The Water Is Wide" and "Shenandoah," and an instrumental "Serenade" by Heather Krupa on flute and Linda Peters on piano.

The Community Choir returned for their final set, starting out with "Do You Hear The People Sing?" from Les Miserables, featuring soloists Chris Johnson and Don Conrad. "A Twist Of The Tongue" added a hilarious note with such tongue-twisters as 'eleven benevolent elephants' and more.

Soloist Garry Townsend, and trio Mathilda Furgher, Barb Buryn and Heather Krupa joined the choir in inviting everyone to "Listen To The Music," while Pauline Hung and Udo Mueller sang a duet as part of "Mansions In The Sky."

"One Moment In Time" was the last number on the program, but the crowd was just not able to let the choir go without an encore. Wednesday's encore was "Bye Bye Blackbird," a favorite from many years ago.

Thursday's concert had two special guests: Kirsten Sanders and Lily Thomson of Heinsburg. Both are members of this year's graduating class at Heinsburg High School, and both were named winners of the Choir's annual scholarships, presented to those with musical promise who intend to pursue a career involving their music.

FAMILY TRIO - Diane Frankiw and sons Trevor and Kevin entertained with recollections of "Grandpa."

What's News at the Library

What's new in non-fiction

NEW IN NON-FICTION

Above the Law: The Crooks, the Politicians, the Mounties and Rod Stampler by Paul Palango: Rod Stampler was the head of the RCMP's Economic Crime Directorate. He resigned in dismay when he realized that his department's investigations were being stymied by a federal government intent on protecting its own. This book draws on his personal files to paint a picture of a police force under pressure to look the other way.

Strong Medicine: How to Save Canada's Health Care System by Michael Rachlis, M.D. and Carol Kushner: A critical look at Canada's health care system that concludes that Medicare can be saved if fundamental structural reform is implemented.

Moving Beyond Words by Gloria Steinem: A collection of six essays, three never before published. Topics include a whimsical look at role reversal titled What if Freud were Phyllis. Steinem's personal style will be familiar to readers of her earlier works.
